Bulletin from the Board

5770 /2010

We are in the Jewish year 5770 and a new decade by the western calendar. The 5,770 year span of time puts the idea of Long Range Planning in a different perspective. My family and I have been members of Kehilat Shalom a mere 6 years. So much has happened in just this short time-span. It is often difficult to look up from the road beneath our feet and look out at the horizon.

Our building, originally a church built in 1969, was purchased by our congregation in 1986 with the generous and forward-looking donations of the founding members many of whom are no longer with us. Later we purchased some adjacent parcels of land. Our property is actually just less than 19 acres though we use only a small portion of it. It is left to us to carry this legacy forward and build upon it. Nurturing and continuing this 5,770 year chain has been, for me, at the core of my commitment to Kehilat Shalom.

This past year we have been focused on many of the mundane repairs and improvements required to care for and preserve our building:

- Re-piping of the sanctuary heating system
- Installing AC in the sanctuary.
- New carpeting in the sanctuary.
- Repair of the front stoop.

We are in the process of:

- Replacing the 40 year old roof.
- Replacing the windows in the sanctuary
- Capping abandoned water well on our property.

Many other projects, though less pressing, still require our attention in the short term. I note just a few of them:

- New dividers in the main social room that might also allow us to get another classroom space that is needed.
- AC for the classroom wing.
- New lighting in the sanctuary.
- Replacing the concrete walkways around the building.
- A new sign for the front
- New windows for the classroom wing.

Finally we need to look further out. When I joined CKS the Board was just beginning to consider a complete renovation and expansion of our current building. Those plans were put aside to address more urgent needs. Nevertheless, we should all be thinking; dreaming about what CKS should become.

These are small links in the chain. My goal is to leave the chain strong and unbroken. I invite you to join me.

Read Hebrew America - Crash Course - B'inah Reishit (First Level)

Sunday mornings January - February, 2010, 9:30 AM - 11:00 AM.

Over the period of approx. 6 Sunday mornings beginning early January, we will complete the first level of the National Jewish Outreach Program's Read Hebrew America program. This class will not only get you from Aleph to Zayin, but you will build syllables and words, learn vocabulary, and even be able to read some of the more common prayers for pronunciation and meaning. The class and the student guide are free, but we ask that you come to each session consistently and review periodically to insure that you progress steadily. Come learn to speak the language of our ancestors and get to know other members of the congregation and local Jewish community as you learn Hebrew together! Contact Meryl Bisberg (mbisberg@comcast.net) if you are interested so that we can have your materials ready for the first class, which will likely be Jan. 6.

Committee Corner News

Ritual Committee and Celebrating Shabbat

The Ritual Committee, with the agreement and support of the CKS Board, is delighted to announce a new feature in our CKS Shabbat celebrations. About 5 or 6 times this year, a CKS committee will be invited to participate in and be honored at an upcoming Shabbat.

At these Shabbat services, committee members have the opportunity to tell the other congregants about the goals, activities, and accomplishments of their committee. Committee members can actively participate in this service by preparing the d'var Torah, helping lead the service, or sponsor the oneg. Perhaps a committee would like to solicit feedback from the congregation on one or more issues; this is an opportunity to give that input and feedback. A service schedule could even be themed or scheduled around a particular upcoming committee event or activity.

We hope all congregants will join our committee members, along with their families, at these services. The Ritual Committee will kick off these "committee Shabbatot" in February - watch the e-bulletins and e-announcements for the date. Please come to this service and share your suggestions and ideas about what makes Shabbat meaningful to you.

Shabbat services are a terrific way to reinforce CKS' commitment to building Jewish community. Please feel free to contact Rabbi Susan, Richard Rosenberg or any of the ritual committee members with your suggestions and ideas for making CKS Shabbat services successful.

THE MYSTERY OF THE CKS TOROT

I'm trying to solve a mystery. At this writing, I am sitting here sifting through our Torah file, much of which, unfortunately, contains undated, small, handwritten notes, along with a few more authoritative letters and documents.

Nevertheless, there are a few things that we know for certain about our three Torot. Congregation Kehilat Shalom's very first Torah is a Holocaust Torah acquired during the synagogue's early years from the Memorial Scrolls Trust located in London, England. The Memorial Scrolls Trust has distributed over 1000 Holocaust Torot, rescued from the ravages of World War II, and then housed in Westminster Synagogue, also in England. These scrolls are all from Jewish communities in Bohemia, Moravia, and Slovakia that were destroyed and looted by the Nazis.

Inscribed around 1800, our scroll, known as Sefer Torah #1268, is from a village in Bohemia (now the western half of the Czech Republic) called Kostelec nad Labem. During the war, I'm told, this scroll was buried in the ground for safekeeping. One of our long-time members and past presidents, Marilyn Nusbaum, made the Holocaust-themed blue velvet mantle that covers this Torah. Although the parchment is badly damaged and we do not chant from it, we sometimes remove this Torah from the ark during b'nei mitzvah "twinning ceremonies" when one of our young adults chooses to honor a child who perished in the Holocaust before ever having had his or her own bar or bat mitzvah.

Dr. Art Steinberg, another CKS past president, acquired our second Torah from a synagogue that closed outside of Philadelphia. For quite a while, CKS had only these two Torot. Then, sometime around 1991, a third Torah came into the possession of our congregation. In our Torah file is a note on a little piece of paper that reads:

"We have received a new Torah! It is a Holocaust Torah which was rescued from a burning synagogue near Aachen, Germany during Kristallnacht, November 9, 1938. This Torah and a ceremonial menorah were donated through the Lehman family from Julius Fromm of Vineland, N.J.... and the silver yad was donated by Carl and Julius Fromm."

"Kristallnacht" refers to the "Night of Broken Glass" during which hundreds of synagogues and other Jewish properties across Germany were burned and looted and many Jews were murdered. It is considered the official beginning of the Nazi Holocaust. The "Lehman family" of course refers to our very own member, Barbara Lehman. The Jews of Vineland, I was reminded by another member, were in large part the community of Jewish chicken farmers who had settled several generations ago in south Jersey. A "yad" is a pointer held during Torah chanting so that we avoid touching the actual text.

So, CKS is the privileged keeper of not one, but two Holocaust Torot! In addition to perusing the Torah file, I spoke to several congregants to write this article. Yet, some mysteries remain. Where is the ceremonial menorah? Which of our silver pointers is the one that accompanied our third Torah acquisition? And last but not least, which of the two newer Torot is the Torah from the closed synagogue in Philadelphia, and which is the one rescued from Aachen, Germany? I'd love to hear from any of you who have the answers to these questions - or any other information regarding our Torah scrolls.

On the wall in our sanctuary hangs a certificate authenticating the history of CKS' first Torah rescued from Kostelec nad Labem. At the end of a rather lengthy inscription, it says that our Holocaust Torah and others like it serve as "permanent memorials to the martyrs from whose synagogues they came... and... spread light as harbingers of future brotherhood on earth; and all of them bear witness to the glory of the holy Name."

May we at CKS always be blessed as the keepers of these sacred scrolls, and may we for generations to come bear witness to the glory of the Holy Name. Amen.

Hebrew School Happenings

January 2010

Happy 2010! Each week we ask the students to bring in tzedakah money in our hopes to perform tikkun olam (repair the world). The word tzedakah is derived from the Hebrew root Tzadee, Daled, Koof, which means justice. Giving tzedakah helps us perform an act of justice and righteousness.

Each season our 5th graders research organizations and present their favorites to the entire religious school. As we closed out the secular year, the religious school students voted on where the tzedakah money from fall should be distributed. Several of Morah Robynn's 5th graders made a short presentation to the school about the organization they selected. I am thrilled to report that our fall tzedakah money (approximately $155) will be distributed as follows:

35% to Lev LaLev Fund (Heart to Heart) selected and presented by Zach Ward and Danielle Corsan

www.levlalev.com

The Lev LaLev Fund supports orphaned and disadvantaged girls in Israel who have no families to nurture and care for them.

38% to Chai Lifeline selected and presented by Tess Kowalski

www.chailifeline.org

Chai Lifeline's mission has been to restore the light of childhood to children whose innocence ended when life-threatening or lifelong illness was diagnosed.

27% to LIBI Fund selected and presented by Kelly Anderson

www.libi-fund.org

The Libi Fund assists members of the Israel Defense Forces through the funding of projects that improve their quality of life and enhance their well-being.

Please remind your children about these organizations and help them to remember to bring tzedakah each week. Every little bit helps and together WE CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

Kehi-Loft

December was a full month of activity for Kehi-Loft! Rabbi Susan worked with the students in the beginning of the month brainstorming ideas for their d'var Torah on the 4th and fine-tuned their reflections from their previous session. On Friday, December 4, Kehi-Loft led the congregation's Shabbat service. The students once again rose to the occasion. They presented a well thought out d'var Torah and facilitated a lively discussion among the congregants. In addition the students sponsored the evening's oneg. Many thanks to students Marissa Applegate, Jeremy Bilotti, Ilana Berger, Gabe Fridkis, Emily Gartenberg, Ariel Kramer, and Scott Weitze for taking the lead on this important mitzvah!

Next up for December was the Kehi-Loft Chanukah party. Many, many thanks to Meryl Bisberg for preparing a container full of latkes for the festivities! They were delicious and put the group in the mood for the holiday. December's social evening was well attended. In addition to the latkes, each student brought an armful of food. The food was plentiful as was the fun that was shared!

Kehi-Loft's final December session brought in congregant Judi Turkheimer to lead a discussion. She actually lead two discussions during the evening. The first was about Tiger Woods and fallen heroes. The second focused on authority and the students thoughts and feelings about power and/or lack of it. Many thanks to Judi for tackling topical and timely issues with our students. Hers is a class that promotes the sharing of ideas, feelings, and thoughts about the complex issues of our day.

In January, Kehi-Loft students have a fabulous opportunity to connect with other Reconstructionist Jews in New York City for a sleep over at the West End Synagogue, 190 Amsterdam @ 69th Street, NY. If at all possible, don't miss this one! Rabbi Susan says that this congregation is one of the best Reconstructionist synagogues and that the students will get a lot out of the experience. Registration is due on January 11th. Information was emailed to each student and their family. If desired, we can organize a group to go together. The students will also participate in a city-wide national day of service on MLK Day.
